+ Description

The Protestant parish invites you to discover the beauty of its church on a self-guided tour on the occasion of Heritage Days.

Inaugurated on September 15, 1901, this neo-Renaissance building is an original work by architect Edouard Fürstenau. The building features a curious bell tower and a short, two-bay nave opening onto a small choir with a flat chevet. Before 1918, it was sometimes nicknamed Buzerkirche, after the reformer Martin Bucer, depicted on the choir's large glass roof
