On the heights of Katzenthal stands the Château du Wineck, a historic monument built around 1200, in the 13th century, on a rocky spur.

It stands at an altitude of 330 metres and is nicknamed "the castle of the vines" because of the surrounding vineyards. A 20-metre keep is also part of this fortified castle, which today houses a small museum. The museum is open from 1st April to 1st November, on Sundays and public holidays from 2 pm to 6 pm and, depending on the weather, on request for groups of up to 10 people (French and German). Reservations required on 03 89 47 85 63.

From here, you can enjoy a magnificent panoramic view of part of the Alsace wine route and typical Alsatian villages.

Want more? Why not take this delightful hike between vineyards and forest, including the remains of the Wineck and a picnic.
