+ Description

Storytelling and object theater.

By the Carton Plein Theater Company

This performance is presented by the Obernai City Media Library.

Mr. Walter had been the village librarian for years.

Now he's gone. Bérénice, a new, inexperienced librarian, has taken his place. She's still finding her bearings (a little) and her keys (often).

At Christmas, she stumbles upon an old box of decorations left behind by the kind old man. Each one offers an opportunity to discover a traditional tale from the Grand Est region. Little by little, the Christmas tree is decorated, and the Christmas spirit fills the little library.

Apéro des Minots: After the show, enjoy a snack provided by 13e sens and chat with the performers during a friendly get-together!

For ages 3 and up.

Free show—reservations required at the Obernai Media Library.
