+ Description

I am a craftsman based in Obernai, for about thirty years, where I practice my profession of ceramic potter.
I work mainly with glazed clay, with is an Alsatian traditional technique, which I try to revisit by using brighter colours and more personal shapes. My production is made of utilitarian and decorative objects, often decorated with very colourful patterns. All the pottery, which you will find in the shop next to my adjacent post located on the Freppel rampart at the entrance of the city-centre of Obernai, is made exclusively on the premises!
