+ Description

What if good health started on the plate?

The 22nd edition of this major celebration of organic culture, focusing on food and health.

A rich and inspiring program of conferences and practical culinary workshops, and a star-studded dinner to celebrate living foods in a festival of flavors.

And, of course, a host of exhibitors and events (conferences, practical workshops, children's activities, art exhibitions, art walks...). Organic refreshments and catering to suit all tastes, bike parking within the show grounds, "mother-baby" area...

Once again this year, BiObernai 2025 promises to be a unifying and inspiring event, rooted in the values of the earth, health and transmission.

Information and full program at www.biobernai.com

Free for all before 12pm, for visitors coming by bike and/or train, and for children under 12. Thereafter 6 euros full price and 3 euros solidarity price.
