+ Description

Jeannine Gillmann, from Barr, paints porcelain objects such as vases, pocket trays, candleholders and other decorative items, using a feather, brush or sponge, and fires them in a high-temperature kiln to bring out the colors.

Françoise Funcke creates oil paintings: for her, "there are thresholds that she brings to light through the play of chiaroscuro.

The abstract forms invite us to perceive architectures from elsewhere. What would be the point of us becoming aware of the existence of passages between worlds? His mission as an artist is to lead us to the threshold of our multidimensional state. "

Come and admire their creations and discuss them with us!
