+ Description

The village of Westhouse is situated in the heart of the Alsace plain, on rich loess terraces (silty and very fertile land), bordered to the west by a landscape of wet meadows, dotted with lines of trees and the forests of the Bruch de l'Andlau. On the edge of the forest, the Bruch, protected by a prefectoral decree and classified as a Natura 2000 zone, is home to game and protected flora and fauna.
